Kia Ora Whanau,

A massive thanks from the Teacher Aides and myself for easing the load on us yesterday afternoon with all our teachers involved in their Paid Union Meeting. It was very much appreciated.

Matariki:

Despite getting up early every morning for a couple of weeks, I have yet to spot Matariki this year. Next year we will have a national holiday to celebrate the start of the Maori New Year. In 2022, the holiday will be on Friday 24th June. The dates will vary, but apparently, they will always be on a Friday.

By crikey, I am enjoying these frosty mornings. It seems a long time ago, since I can remember having to clear the ice off my windscreen three days in a row. Haven't the last few days just been beautiful?

We have one week off this term left before our June holiday break.

Nga Mihi.

Vern Stevens
